Subject : Certificate of good standing for health professionals under supervision

Dear Sir/Madam,

The cantonal physician service is responsible for issuing licences to practice and certificates of good standing for health professionals authorised to practice under their own responsibility in the canton of Geneva. In the case of professionals practising under supervision – including doctors and psychologists undergoing postgraduate training –, it is the authority that supervises them, i.e. their employer, who is responsible for issuing the certificate of good standing that will confirm the absence of disciplinary or administrative proceedings against them.

Hence, for you to be able to make the difference between periods under supervision and periods allowed under their own responsibility, you have to review the various work certificates provided by the health professional.

Thank you for taking this under consideration.

Sincerely yours,

Panteleimon Giannakopoulos
Directeur général de la santé a.i.
